Signups for Campers Open

Applications for attendance at Camp Mt. Craggs, the Salvation Army summer facility in the Malibu mountains 38 miles northwest of Los Angeles, are being accepted at the divisional headquarters youth office, 832 West Ninth St., San Pedro, La. Col. Frank Wilmer, divisional commander announced this week.

Constitutional periods in July and August are open for boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 18. The weekly camp fee including transportation and insurance is $16.50.

For the benefit of youngsters who are not able to afford the camp fee, the Salvation Army has appealed to the public for "camperships" in which the donor will underwrite all or part of the expense of a youngster at camp.

 J. Powers, who succeeded to the spot when Knight became Governor.

Challenging Powers are two Republicans—Speaker of the Assembly James W. Silliman, and Superior Court Judge Frederick F. Houser.

Lone Democrat in the race is Los Angeles City Councilman Edward H. Roybal. The possibility that a Republican might win the Democratic nomination but lose his own party vote has been expressed by some observers. Should this happen, both would be "out" and the Democratic state central committee would name a candidate for the November run-off.

Secretary of State
 Publisher Daniel Raeburn, a Democrat, is the only challenger to Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, a Republican. Jordan, the incumbent, is rated the heavy favorite.

Controller
 Controller Robert C. Kirkwood, who succeeded Thomas Kuchel in the job upon Kuchel's appointment to the Senate in December, 1952 is being opposed for the post by Assemblyman George D. Collins Jr. of the 24th District.

Attorney General
 Former Attorney General Fred N. Howser is seeking return to office which is now held by Edmund G. (Pat) Brown. Making a three-way race out of it is Attorney Claude A. Watson, former Prohibitionist Party candidate for president who switched his registration to Republican when the Prohibitionists nominated Stuart Hamblin two years ago.

Board of Equalization
 Largest field of candidates on the entire ballot have climbed aboard the "Get-Bonelli" train in hopes of unseating the powerful fourth district member of the State Board of Equalization.

CECEL R. KING

William G. Bonelli, member of the board for many years, has been the target of a vigorous campaign to overhaul the liquor control procedures—but most observers give him the election Tuesday on both tickets. A former Republican, he switched his affiliation to Democrat earlier this year. Contesting his right to the board is Wayne L. McFarland, a Democrat, and Republicans Joe Quinn, Jim K. Hudson, Ruth M. Kotlar, Norman E. Kramer, Lee W. Landrum, El-

No organized opposition to the measure has been reported. On the other hand, police, school, and civic leaders have heavily opposed the proposal.

Los Angeles City voters will also be called upon to approve plans for a municipal auditorium, and other measures.

Polls will be open and liquor stores closed from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Battle of Ages
 While Finch is aging, Congressmen King and Bonelli are being referred to as "youthful" and "youthful" respectively.

King, member of the State Assembly since 1932, was elected to Congress in 1942 at a special election to fill the vacancy created by the death of Congressman Lee Geyer. At that time he was a Democratic State Central Committeeman. He has been re-elected four successive terms since that time.

He has been a member of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, and headed a subcommittee which probed operations of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Robert Finch, formerly executive secretary to the Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson when he was in Congress, has been rising rapidly in Republican Party ranks. He has been vice-chairman of the Los Angeles County Central Committee, a committeeman for the 48th Assembly District, and a California delegate to the 1948 National Convention.

He is a member of the Palos Verdes College board of trustees, and active in Inglewood YMCA, Southwest Community Health Clinic Association, and Inglewood Chamber of Commerce.

Finch is a veteran of Marine
